

read all about it

Newspaper	What would people think if they read these?	How would people feel if they read these?
Daily Telegraph
The Daily Mirror
The Daily Mail
The Daily Star
The Independent

read all about it

THE PLAY HOUSE
www.theplayhouse.org.uk

Daily Mirror

- War on the world
- A silent city of death and dust
- Escape from Manhattan
- Just 99 minutes to destroy the towers
- We are on red alert
- The big apple... shaken to its very core

The Independant

- All-American Nightmare
- looks like a war zone
- Bush says bombings were "act of war"
- Phone calls from planes described final, fateful moments
- Is the world's favourite hate figure to blame?

Daily Mail

- Countdown to the nightmare
- This is our battle too, pledges Blair
- Thousands die in hours that shook the world
- Destroyed, the once towering symbols of capitalism
- Inside the brainwashed mind of the suicide bomber
- U.S. shudders into a state of paralysis
- A chilling echo of the kamikazes
- As the world weeps, Palestinians party
- God save us, they screamed as they ran the gauntlet of flames.

Daily Star

- Is this the end of the world?
- Big apple horror puts us on the brink of war
- The moment of deadly impact
- Death toll over 20,000
- The ghost town
- The pentagon: hell on earth
- A day of joy for loonies
- We could be next (with a picture of Big Ben and Canary Wharf)
- Hero pilot is killed saving the White House
- The cloud of doom

The Daily Telegraph

- US horror rocks City markets
- London alert as US workers in Britain mourn lost colleagues
- Weaknesses revealed in security services
- Hundreds of Britons could be dead
- The day New York was cut off from the rest of the world